This month marked the start of a $9.5 million construction project, funded in part by $7.6M from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), at Asheville Regional Airport. The funding, which was distributed by the Federal Aviation Administration under the direction of the U.S. Secretary of Transportation Ray LaHood, will be used to improve the terminal at AVL.

What you need to know:

- All flights now depart from the B-Gate area, as the A-Gates undergo complete renovation
- The security checkpoint will be under construction and you should arrive at least 90 minutes before your departure time to allow enough time for check-in and security

"We appreciate our passengers' patience as we make positive changes to the airport," says Lew Bleiweis, A.A.E., Airport Director. "The great thing about this project is that it will not only enhance the terminal and improve the travel experience at AVL, but it will also infuse the local economy by creating jobs."

When it's all said and done, you'll enjoy a new, larger A-Gate area, which will also be relocated to the lower level, a revamped security checkpoint, and new post-security concessions. We're also adding offices and storage, and all renovations are scheduled for completion by Summer 2010.

There are also a few other projects taking place, which you'll see as you traverse airport property, including: parking lot and Terminal Drive rehabilitation, toll plaza renovation, and improvements to Wright Brothers Way in the general aviation area.

Sponsor a Holiday Display

We know it's only August and the holidays seem light years away, but we're already thinking about giving back to the community this winter.

We also know you need time to plan your holiday activities, so consider this a reminder to put the Asheville Regional Airport Holiday Decorating Contest on your radar. Sign up to sponsor a display in our fourth annual contest benefiting charity.

Space will be limited this year due to the construction project we mentioned above, so if you're considering sponsoring a display, send us an e-mail at pr@flyavl.com and we'll send you the details.
